

Directions on how to use the accompaniment and guide vocal tracks in a live format

Full piano/choir track should be on a left channel of a stereo mix, and guide vocals track added on the right side of the same mix.

Send left channel only to the congregational stream, but send full stereo mix to the cantor's in-ear monitors so they can hear the guide vocals and time their own singing to the track.

The cantor's live vocals are then included in the congregational stream, along with the piano/choir accompaniment in a mono mix for the live services.
